

Ryan and Logan Huggler Joining at Mel Kenyon Midget Series

For immediate release

(Lebanon, IN) The Huggler brothers, Ryan and Logan will make their Mel Kenyon Midget Series debut on Saturday April 19th at the Indianapolis Speedrome. The event will mark the two brothers 1st foray into full size race cars.

The Hugglers will be making the jump into the Kenyon Midgets after four years in one of the traditional paths to full size cars, quarter midgets. “We really enjoyed being a part of the Kokomo Quarter Midget Club and racing at different tracks around the country,” said Ryan Huggler. His brother Logan continued, “We met a lot of interesting people and we have learned a bunch in the last four years. Now we’re looking forward to racing against tough competition in the Mel Kenyon Midget Series.”

The Winamac, IN natives will be supported by their sponsors HNH Farms, Summe and Associates, Agri-gold and Photo Booths by JNG Rentals.

Designed to be an affordable racing series, the Mel Kenyon Midget Series is for open wheel racers on a budget, drivers looking for open wheel racing experience and competitors whose goal is to have fun in a competitive series that keeps the travel reasonable. Bryan Clauson, Justin Allgaier, Dakota Armstrong, Bobby East, Chris Windom, Jacob Wilson and many more have raced Kenyon Midgets during their careers.
